

John 14:15-21

Posted on May 8, 2017 by Mother Clanger

An Activity

We can make an intriguing memory-verse Möbius (say Moh-bee-us) band.

You will need:

- Glue stick
- A strip of card and marker pens OR print out this PDF

If you are using card, cut a strip about 2cm x 20cm – the width of A4 is perfect. Write 'to love is to obey' on one side, and try to make the text fill the strip. Flip the card over top to bottom (this is important) and write 'my command is' on the other side, leaving small gaps at the beginning and end. Add the Bible verses. (John 13:34 and John 14:15)

If you are using the PDF, print it onto paper and cut along the solid lines. One page will make 6 memory verses. Colour the lettering, then fold along the dotted line and stick the sides together.

Whichever method you use to make your strip, we now turn it into a Möbius band. Put a dab on glue at each end of the 'command' side. Bring the ends together into a ring and twist one end so that the two dabs of glue meet.

You should now have a twisted ring that reads:

... to love is to obey my command ... (John 14:15)

... my command is to love ... (John 13:34)